

GAHPS Unit Webinar Series

SHARING SUCCESS TO PROMOTE INNOVATION IN HIV AND HEPATITIS C (HCV) PREVENTION: YOUTH, NON-URBAN SETTINGS, AND NOVEL STRATEGIES.

This webinar series will explore the need for innovation in HIV and HCV prevention, particularly in non-urban settings across Canada. The content for this series is drawn from a Nova Scotia Health Research Foundation (NSHRF) funded study of youth-oriented HIV and HCV prevention, as well as from two parallel CIHR funded projects:

Mobilizing Information, Preventing Infection (MIPI) is a CIHR dissemination grant intended to facilitate dissemination of key findings from the three-year NSHRF-funded study "Our Youth, Our Response" (OYOR). OYOR looked at the programmatic and policy responses aimed at youth-oriented HIV and HCV prevention in Atlantic Canada.

Community Preparedness in the Context of HIV POCT is a one-year CIHR Catalyst Grant which seeks to determine what is needed to initiate HIV point of care testing (POCT) in communities throughout Atlantic Canada. This has involved a series of ongoing consultations involving HIV prevention experts from Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and Labrador, New Brunswick, and Prince Edward Island.

REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED FOR THESE EVENTS. There is no fee for registration. You are welcome to join us for one, or more, of these webinars. If you wish to attend more than one webinar, you must register for each one separately. A participation link will be e-mailed to registered participants one week before the scheduled webinar date. Please be sure to leave your e-mail when registering. If you do not wish to leave your e-mail, please contact the organizer.

Please note that the webinar scheduled for November 9th has been rescheduled to December 7th.

Follow the links below for more information on each upcoming webinar, and to register!

2:00pm Atlantic Time on Monday, November 2nd, 2015: Mobilizing Information, Preventing Infection: Policy and Programmatic Recommendations for Youth-Oriented HIV and HCV Prevention in Nova Scotia

2:00pm Atlantic Time on Monday, November 16th, 2015: Moving Forward: National Action for Innovation in HIV Prevention and Testing

2:00pm Atlantic Time on Monday, November 23rd, 2015: Thinking Locally / Thinking Nationally: Looking for Synergies for Youth-Oriented HIV and HCV Prevention in Non-Urban Settings Across Canada

NEW DATE: 2:00pm Atlantic Time on Monday, December 7th, 2015: Community Preparedness in the Context of HIV POCT: Consultation, Communication, and Strategies for Assessing Readiness

Canadian Institutes of Health Research
Instituts de recherche en santé du Canada

GENDER AND HEALTH
PROMOTION STUDIES UNIT