Graduate Program Admission

The Faculty of Graduate Studies at Dalhousie University administers ALL student applications. Click here to learn How to apply to Graduate Studies.

The Faculty of Agriculture graduate programs follow regulations as set by Dalhousie University's Faculty of Graduate Studies (FGS) [available in the Graduate Calendar]. Applicants to the Faculty of Agriculture should carefully review the FGS Regulations page for detailed guidance related to admissions, registration, degree requirements, examinations, thesis regulations, and all other aspects of their program.

Review these links for information on General Admission Requirements and for general Program and Admissions Information.

The Faculty of Agriculture also requires ALL applicants to submit additional information identified within this Supplementary Information document as part of the graduate program review for acceptance to the MSc in Agriculture or PhD in Agricultural Sciences programs. FGS makes all final decision on all applications. (Please note: Incomplete packages will not be reviewed and it is the responsibility of each applicant to ensure that all the requested information is provided).

Graduate supervision by a faculty member in the Faculty of Agriculture is a primary requirement in order for any graduate applications to be reviewed.

Please consult Departmental Staff Directories to identify potential faculty members in the Faculty of Agriculture who may be prepared to supervise a graduate program.

This completed Supplementary Information document should be submitted by email to: gradadmissions.agr@dal.ca

Please note, that the submission of this completed form does not guarantee your admission to the program.

I. Statement of Research Interest

II. Abstract of Honours Thesis/Undergraduate Research Project (MSc applicants) or Abstract of MSc Thesis (PhD applicants)

Include a copy of the honours/undergraduate research project (for applicants to the MSc program) or an abstract from the MSc thesis (for applicants to the Doctoral program). If the documents are publicly available through university repositories also include URL addresses. Links to any other publicly available reports or peer-reviewed scholarly works attributed to the applicants may also be included in this section.

III. Applicant Curriculum Vitae

Applicants must include an updated Curriculum Vitae that summarizes academic and professional achievements, published, or disseminated scholarly works, work experiences, and any other relevant information to support the review of the application package.

IV. Graduate Funding Sources and Support

This section must be completed by the applicant in consultation with the confirmed supervisor in the Faculty of Agriculture. Funding for applicants identified in the 'Other' category must be clearly justified in the 'Additional Comments' box. The Graduate Office reserves the right to request proof of financial capacity from applicants who are applying on a self-funded basis. Additional information on Tuition Fees, including a Fee Calculator, can be found through the Faculty of Graduate Studies:

- a) Tuition Fee Schedule
- b) Fee Calculator

The recommended duration of funding support for the MSc in Agriculture is six semesters (2 years) and for the PhD in Agricultural Sciences is twelve semesters (4 years).
