

About the Program

The Dalhousie Field Course in Saint Pierre and Miquelon is a 23-day immersion program. Students will earn six university credits in French and live with a French family.

The program is based at the Francoforum, a dedicated language training centre, and is supervised by a Dalhousie professor who accompanies the group.

2023 dates: 26 April to 19 May inclusive

The program is open to all students who have at least an intermediate level of French (1048 or 1058 or equivalent) from all faculties. External students are welcome provided they are eligible to register at Dalhousie or King's for the period of the international experience. The Field Course is a great way to kick-start a Major or Minor in French, or develop advanced oral French skills and gain practical experience for future career opportunities.

Cost

Fees for six Dalhousie credits, plus all-inclusive program fee covering flights, accommodation, meals, course materials, excursions and activities. Total cost is approximately $4900.

Generous bursaries are available.
