

Land Acknowledgement Support

Below are prompts only, feel free to include information that makes sense to you and the land in which you live, work and inhabit. Miigwech

- Start with your Greeting (if you speak another language feel free to share), place yourself on the land (your roots, your privilege, etc)
- Who you are? What do you do? and why are you doing this right now?
- Why is it important to centre the land?
- What reasons are YOU thankful for being on this land, in this moment? – keep in mind: the history of the people, also the physical land: the plants, tree's, insects, animals, fish, and water that sustain ALL life)
- Can you acknowledge the agreements of the land you stand on? What do they mean to you?
- Is there anything you can teach the people or encourage those listening to you right now about what you know, what actions can you encourage?
- If you haven't already, can you name the nations (and pronounce them!) that cared for and lived on these lands, what do those names nations mean?
- Is there any connections or learning you can share around those Nations while you name them?

Thank you in the language of the land, thank you in your language
