After a flood at the University Children's Centre FM staff transformed a parking lot into a tiny village of portables. FM electricians came up with a power supply as plumbers built a water source. They worked with kindness and like well-oiled machines never making the daycare staff feel like a burden. The daycare staff said they received top notch help, guidance, support, answers, expertise, and so much more. It was an amazing day when they reopened mid-August and the children could see their friends. work.
