The Paint Shop has led by example for many years in the completion of safety documents including work from heights, from scaffolds, with asbestos, lead based paint, epoxy paint and other hazardous materials. They identify safety concerns develop safe work practices if needed. Their quality work is always visible but their commitment to safety is sometimes not as well known. Clients also say they are dedicated to putting everything back in place and properly cleaned before leaving a job – to the point where staff sometimes don't even know they were there.
