

Jeff's Green Thumb

Unknown to most who enter, walk thru or study in the Wallace McCain Learning Centre (WMLC), custodian Jeff McCreanor brings plants in from his home to create calm, welcoming study areas for the students. Jeff loves to garden and brings the plants in for the students to enjoy and also because of all of the windows in the building. He continues to take cuttings and root them to grow new plants. At Christmas he brings in lights to decorate the larger plants for all to enjoy. Jeff is a private, humble person with a very big heart.

I go to Jeff for any plant questions. In my opinion he provides a great atmosphere in the WMLC and is making a difference in the lives of all who enter, walk thru and study in the WMLC.

One day a student named Shauna said how nice it was to have greenery in the WMLC which she referred to as one of Dalhousie's "concrete jungles". She said for her personally, the plants remind her of home, calm her and helps her mentally.

Katherine Rudolph, BSA (she/her)

Executive Assistant and Planning Coordinator /Office of Planning & Institutional Effectiveness

