

Matt's Hard Work at LSRI

In January, the LSRI had a lack of potable hot water. Myself and Matt Scott worked for days to try and fix the issue by trying many different things. I had a meeting and suggested Matt try isolation, and in the short time I was gone he tried it and was excited to find it worked and brought the hot water back. Thanks to matt for all his hard work.

Chris Westhaver

Preventative Maintenance Crew

