

Macdonald Building gardens provide breathtaking scenery

Kudos to FM's Derek Pearson, who just completed his Master Gardener designation and finished the beautiful Formal/English Country gardens outside the MacDonald Building on the Studley Quad. "I was taking a routine walk to the Hicks looking at my phone when the burst of colour literally stopped me in my tracks," says an anonymous campus member. "I took several pictures on my phone and took a closer look to appreciate the artistry that went into the design. What a pleasure to work in an urban setting with such a surprising oasis."

"Clearly, the Hicks building front entrance being a complete construction zone did not prevent the grounds team from ensuring the surrounding grounds were well manicured. Even in the midst of the pouring rain and construction I could not overlook those shrub beds – they are amazing! Well done, and thank you, to Derek and the entire grounds team."
