

2018 STOKER AWARD FOR APPRECIATION

Sexton Trades and Custodial

Custodians

They are constantly keeping the hallways and classrooms bright and clean, despite an ever-increasing parade of muddy construction boots (both student and worker) throughout the campus. On more than one occasion, there has been a mass mobilization of custodial staff to stem the tide of a flood caused by blocked drainage pipes, leaking equipment, or open portions of roofs; their quick action has prevented costly damage to sensitive research equipment and student computers alike.

Trades Workers

Their response to issues that arise, especially due the construction on our campus, is always quick. I really appreciate the work and support they give to my department and the campus as a whole. They should be recognized for the extras they do for us to keep our campus running as smoothly as possible. They are an exceptional group of people and are doing a stellar job. It is a pleasure to work with them all.
