

2018 STOKER AWARD FOR STEWARDSHIP

STEPHANIE MACKENZIE

Stephanie had long proven herself with her daily work at the AC, and then the fire in the Cox Building happened last June. Since the fire, she has been unflappable, working long hours and managing several competing projects while dealing patiently with staff and faculty concerned about their research and equipment, and attending hours of planning and strategy meetings about recovery.