

MAGNIFICENT MARY JANE

Mary Jane Webber is being recognized for her enthusiasm during an engagement session for the Bicentennial Common outside of the Killam Memorial Library.

The engagement session had free coffee and Timbits. At certain points throughout the event there would be several people passing by. Mary Jane was spectacular attracting attention and directing people to our display boards. Mary Jane was announcing FREE Coffee! All passersby were very glad to hear about what was going on.

Nathan Rogers, the assistant director of capital planning, was very impressed with Mary Jane's attitude and positivity. She was very active in promoting the Bicentennial Common project to all students,, faculty, and staff who passed by.

Congratulations on the success of the session! Amazing work Mary Jane!

From Nathan Rogers, Assistant Director, Capital Planning

