

Debbie is Heaven Sent!

On January 23, 2018, Debbie Gibbs the custodian who works over in the McCain building was the angel that was needed at the right place and the right time.

“I wanted to drop you a note to thank one of your crew. This morning I ended up in a real jam at McCain (guest speaker in who lost her keys, a massive box to haul around, no dolly, freezing rain, etc.). Debbie was an utter godsend -- she happened to be there at exactly the right time, was extremely helpful and very kind. I've always had such good experiences with the custodial crew at McCain, and it's obviously a consistent high standard that's been set and continues to be met.”
