

W. K. Kellogg Health Sciences Library Food & Drink Policy

W. K. Kellogg Health Sciences Library's Food & Drink Policy is intended to maintain a pleasant and comfortable environment for our users and staff and to preserve library materials, computer equipment, and furnishings. Your help in this effort is greatly appreciated.

Food:

Food will not be allowed in the following areas:

- Any computer workstation desk
- Any place posted specifically as not allowing food

Food is allowed to be consumed in all other study areas and carrels throughout the library or learning commons area. However, Library Staff reserve the right to determine when the consumption of food items might disturb other library users. In these cases they may require that the food be taken outside the library or learning commons spaces.

NOTE: Library staff will respond to complaints from other patrons regarding disruptive food consumption

Drink:

Non-alcoholic beverages in approved containers may be consumed in the library and learning commons area unless otherwise posted.

Approved containers include:

- Spill-proof mugs with secure lids and a drinking hole that can be closed
- Sports bottles with a drinking spout that can be closed
- Beverages in capped plastic or glass bottles
- Paper or Styrofoam cups with lids

Containers not considered acceptable include:

- Open cups or mugs
- Paper or Styrofoam cups without lids

Non-Compliance: Library users not complying with these policies will be required to take the food or drink to a food area outside the library or learning commons area.

Please dispose of all trash properly in the recycle containers and garbage receptacles provided throughout the library or building.

Thank you for your cooperation.
