

Personal Harassment Policy

Policy Statement

Dalhousie University is committed to providing employees with a work environment that is free of personal harassment. All members of the University community share responsibility for establishing and maintaining a climate of respect and for taking appropriate steps to address situations which violate this principle or seek advice.

The purpose of this policy is to define personal harassment and to set out clear procedures to be followed in instances where an employee believes personal harassment has occurred.

This policy is administered by the Advisor, Harassment Prevention/Conflict Management who is located in the Office of Human Rights, Equity and Harassment Prevention. The Advisor acts as a resource for both the complainant and respondent, as well as the Administrative Head.

Definitions

“Personal Harassment” is abusive, unfair, or demeaning treatment of a person or group of persons that is known or ought reasonably to be known to be unwelcome and unwanted when:

- a) such treatment abuses the power one person holds over another by virtue of their employment relationship or misuses authority associated with their position of employment, or
- b) such treatment has the effect of seriously threatening or intimidating a person, and such treatment has the effect of unreasonably interfering with a person’s or a group of persons’ employment or performance, or
- c) such treatment has the effect of creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment.

Conduct considered above means either repeated or persistent patterns of behaviour, direct or indirect, that when taken together constitute personal harassment; or a single act of sufficient severity to constitute personal harassment in its own right. Such conduct may occur within or outside of the workplace.

Examples of personal harassment include, but are not limited to, name calling, insults, inappropriate jokes, threats, shouting, derogatory remarks (including messages that are threatening, derisive, or defamatory), spreading malicious rumours, persistent criticism and exclusion.
