

In photo from left to right are Mark Quintanilla, William Langford and Erin Corber.

Mark Quintanilla, Fulbright Scholar with the Dalhousie History Department 2017-2018. Dr. Quintanilla is a Professor of History Hannibal-LaGrange University, Hannibal, Missouri. His area of expertise is in the Atlantic World. His research is focused on the Ceded Islands of Grenada, St. Vincent, Dominica, and Tobago.

Dr. Quintanilla's previous Fulbright experience was in 2012-2013 in the East Caribbean nations of St. Vincent & the Grenadines (fall, 2012) where he assisted in the relocation of historical documents from the Supreme Court Registry to the National Archives and Dominica (2013) where he taught at Dominica State College.

William Langford, Postdoctoral SSHRC with the Dalhousie History Department 2017-2019. Dr. Langford received his PhD at Queen's University. Dr. Langford's research topics are 20th-century Canadian history, political history, Canada in the World.

Dr. Langford also received the SSRHC Joseph-Armand Bombardier Canada Graduate Scholarship – Doctoral, 2014-2017.

Erin Corber, the inaugural Simon and Riva Spatz Visiting Chair in Jewish Studies with the Dalhousie History Department 2017-2018. A scholar of modern French and Jewish history, Dr. Corber holds a PhD in Modern European History from Indiana University, Bloomington.

In 2015-2016, Dr. Corber was an international fellow at the Institute for Advanced Study at New Europe College in Bucharest, Romania, and in 2014-2015, she was visiting assistant professor of European history at the University of Maine, Orono. Throughout, her research agenda has aimed to re-imagine French and Jewish narratives of the inter-war years in Europe and France, in particular.