WHO WE ARE & WHAT WE DO

The Dalhousie University Department of English Language Studies (ELS) is dedicated to English language teaching and professional development in the areas of language education, English-medium instruction and internationalization of the curriculum.

Since 2010, our highly-qualified team of instructors has worked with thousands of students, professionals, teachers and faculty members at Dalhousie and worldwide to help them be successful at university, advance their careers, and develop their teaching practice.

A TRUSTED INSTITUTION

Our programs are accredited by Languages Canada. We are also a designated learning institution by Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (O19091594822).

THE DALHOUSIE ELS ADVANTAGE

- Dalhousie is one of Canada's oldest and most prestigious universities. It is a member of the U15 (the top 15 Canadian research-intensive universities) and combines innovative research, meaningful teaching and a deep sense of social responsibility.
- Study in the city of Halifax (population of +450,000), a safe and historic city known for its friendly citizens.
- Halifax is the capital city of Nova Scotia and the educational, cultural and economic hub of Atlantic Canada. Often referred to as Canada's “best-kept secret,” Halifax boasts a youthful spirit, rich history and scenic waterfront.

“I USED TO NOT LIKE WRITING AT ALL AND COULDN’T GIVE A PROPER ACADEMIC SPEECH, BUT NOW, AFTER MONTHS LEARNING, I LOVE WRITING! I KNOW HOW TO WRITE A REPORT AND AN ESSAY, HOW TO MAKE REFERENCES AND HOW TO GIVE AN ACADEMIC PRESENTATION. THESE ARE ALL THE THINGS THAT I WILL NEED AT UNIVERSITY. MY INSTRUCTORS WERE GREAT!”
