Limited term (3-year) Instructor in Computer Science
Faculty of Computer Science, Dalhousie University.

The Faculty of Computer Science is seeking candidates for the position of Instructor for a 3-year limited term position. The positions will primarily involve teaching second, third, and fourth-year undergraduate courses in software development, systems, and cloud computing; and participating in other Faculty administration and undergraduate affairs, such as the Curriculum Committee and undergraduate student counseling.

Candidates to these positions must have at least a Masters degree in Computer Science or related discipline. Prior experience as instructor, a Ph.D., or industry experience will be prioritized. The successful candidate must be willing to deliver outcome-driven courses and participate in the further integration of the delivered course in the curricula of the Bachelor of Computer Science (BCS) and the Bachelor of Applied Computer Science (BACS). Although the instructor is not expected to conduct research, the successful candidate will have a well-defined area of interest in CS in which they will remain current and be able to teach senior-level courses.

Eligible candidates are encouraged to apply for this position with a package including a C.V., cover letter, a teaching dossier and the addresses and emails of three references. The dossier must provide any available and pertinent evidences of teaching effectiveness and innovation. The applicant must also include the Equity Self-Identification form as part of their application material (see URL below).

Application packages must be submitted in PDF format to appointments@cs.dal.ca by December 1, 2017. Please also arrange for your referees to forward letters of reference directly to this email address by the same deadline.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Dalhousie University is committed to fostering a collegial culture grounded in diversity and inclusiveness. The university encourages applications from Aboriginal people, persons with a disability, racially visible persons, women, persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, and all candidates who would contribute to the diversity of our community.

Deadline: December 1, 2017 (or until position is filled)
