

Assistant / Associate Professor
Electrical and Computer Engineering
Dalhousie University

The Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering at Dalhousie University invites applications for a probationary tenure-track appointment at the Assistant or Associate Professor level from candidates with outstanding teaching and research abilities in electrical and computer engineering. Please refer to <http://www.ece.dal.ca> for details about the Department.

Candidates must have a doctorate in electrical engineering, computer engineering, or a closely related discipline. Preference will be given to those who have an undergraduate degree in electrical or computer engineering. The successful candidate must register as a Professional Engineer in Nova Scotia.

The ideal candidate will have strong experience in engineering design and demonstrated ability or potential to establish a strong, externally-funded research program in an area of electrical and computer engineering. Exceptional candidates in emerging areas are encouraged to apply.

The successful candidate will be able to teach a wide variety of undergraduate courses in general, electrical and computer engineering and specialized topics at the graduate level as well as supervise graduate students.

Applications, including a curriculum vitae, a statement of research and teaching interests should be sent by June 15, 2015 to:
