Continuing Professional Development/Graduate Studies Elective
On-Line Graduate Course

OCCU 5050

Public Dialogue on Occupation & Enablement

Knowledge Translation Course for Health Professionals

FALL TERM, SEPTEMBER 8 – DECEMBER 8, 2020 ( 12 WEEKS)

COURSE INSTRUCTOR: DR. GRACE WARNER

You've completed research, a paper or a project related to health, well-being, or social inclusion. Now, how do you share what you've learned? Who is your audience? How do you design an effective presentation? How do you choose a journal to write for? What other strategies and media can you use to get your ideas from research or practice out there?

The goal of this course is for you to prepare a knowledge translation communication strategy and associated products based on your topic expertise developed through prior or concurrent assignments/projects completed in your discipline.

This online course is open, with permission, to: occupational therapists, health professionals or any graduate student with an interest in knowledge translation.

Registration deadline: Tuesday, September 1st, 2020

FORMAT: This is an on-line course available by internet wherever you are.
