

Are you free on Wednesday Evenings?

Do you want to sing in a ^{great} chorale?

Dalhousie Health Professions Chorale

We are recruiting new members for the Dalhousie Health Professions Chorale.

All singers are welcome.

This 80-voice mixed choir is conducted by Bryan Crocker. Rehearsals are on Wednesday evenings from 6:30-8:15 PM in Theatre B at the Dalhousie Medical School. A wide range of musical styles is performed including classical and sacred, secular choir repertoire, Broadway and the latest from the pop charts. No auditions are necessary. There is no membership fee.

The chorale is a part of Music-in-Medicine, a vibrant and longstanding component of Dalhousie Medical Humanities. It provides musical opportunities for medical students and a broad range of community people. We come together to share in the uplifting experience of making music.

OK! Sign me up. How do I join? How do I get more information?

Contact: dalhealthmusic@dal.ca

Or just come to our first practice from 6:30 to 8:15pm, Sept. 7th
in Theatre B at the Dalhousie Medical School