

KILLAM SCHOLARSHIPS

INTRODUCTION

Departments are reminded about the competition of Killam Scholarships and are asked to encourage suitable candidates to apply.

REVIEW OF BEQUEST

The express purpose in establishing the Killam Trusts was to help "build Canada's future by encouraging advanced study". The aim was to "increase the scientific and scholastic attainments of Canadians, to develop and expand the work of Canadian universities, and to promote sympathetic understanding between Canadians and the peoples of other countries". The fellowships were designed to provide "for advanced study or research at universities, hospitals, research or scientific institutes, or other equivalent or similar institutions, both in Canada and in other countries in any field of study or research other than "the arts.....".

Scholarships were to be awarded for two years initially, subject to review and termination after one year, and renewable for as many years as may be deemed appropriate.

The scholarships awarded to Canadian or permanent residents of Canada for work either in or out of the country. The amount of the award is decreed to be adequate to allow a scholar to live "simply but comfortably".

SUMMARY

1. Scholarships will be awarded, according to the intent of the original bequest, to support study or research.
2. Preference will be given to support work leading to a higher degree, or to support work of a similar high quality resulting in a publication in a peer-reviewed journal.
3. In the case of candidates who are Canadian citizens, the study may be undertaken within or outside of Canada. For candidates who are not Canadian citizens, the research or study must be conducted within Canada.
4. The amount of an award and the number of scholarships awarded on an annual basis will be at the discretion of faculty at the direction of the Scholarships and Awards Committee, dependent on the funds available and on the quality of the applications received.
