Locum Medical Oncologist
Department of Medicine
Dalhousie University / Nova Scotia Health Authority

The Department of Medicine, Dalhousie University / Nova Scotia Health seeks applications for a locum position as a Medical Oncologist in the Division of Medical Oncology at the QEII Health Sciences Centre, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

The Division of Medical Oncology is one of 15 divisions within the Department of Medicine and provides systemic oncology care for the majority of mainland Nova Scotia as well as serving as a regional center of subspecialized expertise. In addition to playing an important clinical role in the Department, division members have excellent opportunities for collaborative educational and research activities to facilitate rewarding and fulfilling career development.

Candidates must hold FRCPC (or equivalent) certification in Internal Medicine and subspecialty certification in Medical Oncology. Academic appointment ranking will be based on qualifications and experience.

The Department of Medicine is committed to fostering a collegial culture grounded in diversity and inclusiveness. Nova Scotia offers exceptional cultural and recreational opportunities in addition to an outstanding quality of life in all domains.

To apply for this position, please send a cover letter, Curriculum Vitae, and names and email addresses of three referees to:
Dr. Nathan Lamond, c/o Kathryn McIlrath by email at Kathryn.McIlrath@nshealth.ca
Queries can be addressed to Dr. Lamond by email at Kathryn.McIlrath@nshealth.ca

Closing date for applications is December 18, 2021.