

Dr. Susan Bradley Scholarship

In Child and Adolescent Psychiatry

The Susan Bradley Scholarship Fund is now receiving applications for a summer student placement. This student placement is limited to first and second year medical students with an interest in gaining a better understanding and appreciation of child and adolescent psychiatry. The successful student will spend a minimum of 10 weeks and up to 14 weeks gaining clinical experience in child & adolescent psychiatry. Opportunities to explore research interests in child & adolescent psychiatry are available to those students with an interest in research.

One to two scholarships are awarded to students to spend between 10 and 14 weeks attending a variety of clinical and/or research opportunities in child & adolescent psychiatry in Toronto. Primary sites include The Child Youth and Family Service of the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH) and/or The Hospital for Sick Children however scholarship winners may spend time at a variety of other child mental health programs in Toronto. Clinical supervision is provided by a variety of child psychiatrists. Exact starting dates will be determined directly with the scholarship winners however the scholarship must take place during the summer months of May to August. Scholarships are awarded based upon completion of an application form, academic record, curriculum vitae and reference letters and reference letters.

The scholarship stipend is $5,000 for the duration of the scholarship. Students must prepare a summary of their clinical and/or research, experiences.

Please submit this application form, your up to date curriculum vitae, copies of official transcripts from undergraduate courses, and a copy of your current Medical School transcripts, a letter of good standing from your current medical school and a reference letter (e.g., from a professor or previous employer). Please submit all documents by email or fax to Comfort Thompson:
