

On June 17th, 2019 at the CNSF Congress in Montreal, the CNSS bestowed its fourth annual Award for Lifetime Achievement / Charles Drake Medal upon Professor André Olivier.

CNSS President Dr. Patrick McDonald presented Dr. Olivier with the Drake Medal along with the commemorative engraved desk clock. Professor Olivier had been nominated by Dr. Jeffrey Atkinson on behalf of the Montreal Neurological Institute (“The Neuro”), McGill University.

Dr. Jeffery Hall, Dr. Abbas Sadikot, and Dr. David Clarke also conveyed best wishes and anecdotes as Dr. Olivier savoured the moment.

During his salute to Dr. Olivier, Dr. Falah Maroun showed the photograph below, which he had also shared during the CNSS Annual Dinner of 2018. It sparked much interest once again.

In his acceptance, Dr Olivier paid special tribute to cherished colleague Dr. Frederick Andermann who had sadly just passed away the weekend before.

Dr. Olivier's mentors Dr. Gilles Bertrand and Dr. Herbert Jasper were also acknowledged.

Dr. Olivier's spouse Nicole was in attendance. André and Nicole have retired to the country, and live in Saint-Alphonse-Rodriguez. Dr. Olivier has enjoyed rejuvenating his skill at trumpet playing in the same band in which he played at age 17 and with only a slightly diminished embouchure!
