	DAY	TIME	LOCATION
Lectures:	Asynchronous	n/a	N/a – all materials available on BrightSpace
Labs:	Synchronous* Thursdays	10:00 - 11:30am Atlantic Standard Time (AST, UTC -3)	Collaborate Ultra or MS Teams

*Attendance at synchronous lab meetups are strongly encouraged but not mandatory. The purpose of meetups is to provide lab support and to give you a chance to get to know me, your TA's, and the rest of the class. Participation will be assessed based on attendance but also via other means such as posted participation activities throughout the term. If you do not attend the meetups, then you should complete the alternate activities.

Synchronous lab meetups will utilize the Collaborate Ultra platform accessed via BrightSpace, or MS Teams if we have technical difficulties. You will need a computer with video and audio capabilities. Detailed instructions on access will be posted on Brightspace.

A class poll was sent out before the start of term to determine everyone's location. Those who are unable to attend due to restrictions such as time zone or hardware requirements should have spoken to me before the start of term. If you have not, please do so as soon as possible.

Course Description

Environmental Informatics is the knowledge, skills and tools which enable information to be collected, managed and disseminated to support research in environmental science. Students develop analytical skills using a variety of software including an introduction to spatial querying in GIS. Identification of fallacies in the media and principles of effective science communication are introduced and applied to current environmental issues and challenges.

Course Prerequisites: ENVS 1100.03 or ENVS 1200.03 and STAT 1060.03

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes

After successfully completing this course, students will be able to;

- Understand sources of information required for addressing environmental challenges
- Identify a suite of contemporary tools and techniques in environmental informatics
- Apply literacy, numeracy, and critical thinking skills to environmental problem-solving
- Utilize geographic information systems (GIS) at an introductory level
- Apply basic R coding language to view, query, and visualize environmental data

Course Materials

Textbook. There is no textbook for this course. Reading materials will be posted on Brightspace.

Student Response Systems. Throughout the term we may use a series of online student response systems for polling the class. Examples include Socrative (www.socrative.com), Poll Everywhere (www.pollev.com) and functions built into Collaborate Ultra and BrightSpace and/or MS Teams. All platforms are free and no additional fees are required.

Assignments: There are four assignments that build on class topics and are based on work completed in the computer lab. Assignments will often need to be completed outside of class time depending on how quickly you work. Please reach out if you need additional assistance beyond what is provided in class. Assignments are submitted electronically through the Brightspace on the due date. All assignments must include your name and banner number as well as the assignment number, term, and year. See 'Important Notes' section for policy on late assignments.

Participation: This is determined through your engagement in class meetups (via MS Teams or Collaborate Ultra), discussion boards, and participation activities.

Course Policies

Class culture: We aim to cultivate a culture of mutual respect, inclusiveness, and collective curiosity. Be courteous of your neighbours, engage in discussion, and speak up if you are struggling (if you're having a great time, speak up as well! ;)

Late penalties: Assignments handed in on the due date will be evaluated at 100% of their potential score. Late assignments will be subject to a late penalty of 15% per day (including weekends). Assignments submitted 7 calendar days past the due date will be assigned a zero. Assignments handed in AFTER the work has been returned to the class cannot be marked for credit.

Missed Exam:

Student Declaration of Absence: The new Student Declaration of Absence (SDA) Form will be used in this course and will replace sick notes for absences of three days or fewer that result in missed or late academic requirements. The form can be accessed through Brightspace or submitted to me via email. Submission does not provide automatic exemption from any academic requirements that were missed or late during an absence. Any alternate coursework arrangements for missed or late academic requirements are at the discretion of the course instructor. Students must also email the instructor prior to the due date if a deadline is going to be missed.

Plagiarism: Plagiarism and cheating is a serious academic offense and includes the submission or presentation of the work of another as if it were one's own. Failure to acknowledge someone else's words, phrases, ideas, recording, images, code, results, lecture content, term paper, or assignment responses may result in a failing grade or, if very serious, suspension or expulsion from the university. Please visit https://www.dal.ca/dept/university\_secretariat/academic-integrity/plagiarism-cheating.html for more information.

Student Collaboration: Given the move to virtual teaching this term, it is encouraged that students work together to provide support, collaboration, and to build lasting friendships. Discussing course content and sharing results is appropriate but providing answers to an individual that has not conducted the work themselves is not. Each student must submit their own work. Copying from another, even small passages of text is strictly discouraged and would fall under the umbrella of plagiarism.

University Policies and Statements

This course is governed by the academic rules and regulations set forth in the University Calendar and by Senate

Missed or Late Academic Requirements due to Student Absence

As per Senate decision instructors may not require medical notes of students who must miss an academic requirement, including the final exam, for courses offered during fall or winter 2020-21 (until April 30, 2021). Information on regular policy, including the use of the Student Declaration of Absence can be found here: https://www.dal.ca/dept/university\_secretariat/policies/academic/missed-or-late-academic-requirements-due-to-student-absence.html.

Academic Integrity

At Dalhousie University, we are guided in all of our work by the values of academic integrity: honesty, trust, fairness, responsibility and respect (The Center for Academic Integrity, Duke University, 1999). As a student, you are required to demonstrate these values in all of the work you do. The University provides policies and procedures that every member of the university community is required to follow to ensure academic integrity.

Accessibility

The Advising and Access Services Centre is Dalhousie's centre of expertise for student accessibility and accommodation. The advising team works with students who request accommodation as a result of a disability, religious obligation, or any barrier related to any other characteristic protected under Human Rights legislation (Canada and Nova Scotia).

Student Code of Conduct

Everyone at Dalhousie is expected to treat others with dignity and respect. The Code of Student Conduct allows Dalhousie to take disciplinary action if students don't follow this community expectation. When appropriate, violations of the code can be resolved in a reasonable and informal manner—perhaps through a restorative justice process. If an informal resolution can't be reached, or would be inappropriate, procedures exist for formal dispute resolution.

Diversity and Inclusion – Culture of Respect

Every person at Dalhousie has a right to be respected and safe. We believe inclusiveness is fundamental to education. We stand for equality. Dalhousie is strengthened in our diversity. We are a respectful and inclusive community. We are committed to being a place where everyone feels welcome and supported, which is why our Strategic Direction prioritizes fostering a culture of diversity and inclusiveness
