Course Description:

ECON 3111 Writing in Economics

CREDIT HOURS: 3

This course provides instruction in principles and practice of good writing about economics. Students read and examine writing samples and practice writing for various venues (such as government, firms, and news media) in various formats (such as opinion editorials, government policy papers, economics blogs, and journal articles).

NOTES: All Economics courses, unless stated otherwise, have a minimum grade requirement of C for their prerequisite courses.

Course Prerequisites:

ECON 2200.03, ECON 2201.03, a Dalhousie Writing Course

Course Objectives/ Learning Outcomes:

This is a reading and writing intensive course. Our goal in this class is for you to improve communication skills in conducting economic research. This includes writing, public speaking, teaching, informal conversation, and collaboration. This will be achieved using a scaffolding approach. You will first learn from already existing economic articles to recognize and assess journal articles in economic journals, videos, books, and magazine (e.g., NY times, The Economist). Please note that form and content have approximately equal weight in writing assignments.

Your responsibilities in this class include the following:

- During each class, you will have an in-class assignment based on readings (research articles, various online materials, or videos). You will be graded both on form and content of your work. It is crucial that you complete the assignment at the required time as the ensuing class is based on what you learned then.
- Each class will require your active participation in class discussion;
- Each class will require some of you to lecture a particular chapter (assigned ahead of time, in groups of three);
- At the end of the semester, you will have to complete a final project. You will write a research proposal (5 pages max, tables and figures included, APA style, font 12, 1.5 line spacing) on the topic of your choice. This work will require that you perform an extensive and thorough literature review, then outline a research question, and the means by which this project would be undertaken (methodology, timeline, budget, personnel). Here again, the grade you will receive will be based on both form and content. You will also present your proposal orally (15 mn presentation).

Course Materials:

Required:

Student's guide to Writing College Papers, by Turabian Kate L. (2019) Fifth edition, University of Chicago Press

Suggested readings:

Writing by Economists, by S.E. Hume & B. Ahmadi (Eds.) (2013) Victoria: Open Leaf Press

Presentations of chapters - 10% of final grade	As scheduled
Proposal presentation - 15% of final grade	March 27
Final draft of proposal - 20% of final grade	April 3

Brightspace Information:

This course has a Brightspace page for all registered students; see <https://dal.brightspace.com> for details. Marks, and announcements will all be posted to Brightspace. It is essential that you familiarise yourself with how to use the Brightspace system.

Conversion of numerical grades to Final Letter Grades following the Dalhousie Common Grade Scale:

A+ (90-100)	B+ (77-79)	C+ (65-69)	D	(50-54)
A (85-89)	B (73-76)	C (60-64)	F	(<50)
A- (80-84)	B- (70-72)	C- (55-59)

Course Policies:

Assignments are to be your own work. If you are caught using anyone else's work, both parties to the plagiarism will be dealt with severely. Please read the Department statement on academic integrity.

Three absences can be excused in the semester. This means that your participation will not be penalized as a result. However, you will receive a zero on in-class assignments assigned that day. If you miss your presentation, you will need to find a group that accepts you in their presentation.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Academic integrity, with its embodied values, is seen as a foundation of Dalhousie University. It is the responsibility of all students to be familiar with behaviours and practices associated with academic integrity. Instructors are required to forward any suspected cases of plagiarism or other forms of academic cheating to the Academic Integrity Officer for their Faculty.

The Academic Integrity website (<http://academicintegrity.dal.ca>) provides students and faculty with information on plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty, and has resources to help students succeed honestly. The full text of Dalhousie's Policy on Intellectual Honesty and Faculty Discipline Procedures is available here:

http://www.dal.ca/dept/university_secretariat/academic-integrity/academic-policies.html

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

Dalhousie University has a student code of conduct, and it is expected that students will adhere to the code during their participation in lectures and other activities associated with this course. In general:

“The University treats students as adults free to organize their own personal lives, behaviour and associations subject only to the law, and to University regulation that are necessary to protect

- the integrity and proper functioning of the academic and non – academic programs and activities of the University or its faculties, schools or departments;
- the peaceful and safe enjoyment of University facilities by other members of the University and the public;
- the freedom of members of the University to participate reasonably in the programs of the University and in activities on the University's premises;
- the property of the University or its members.”

The full text of the code can be found here:

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

At Dalhousie University, we respect the values of academic integrity: honesty, trust, fairness, responsibility, and respect. As a student, adherence to the values of academic integrity and related policies is a requirement of being part of the academic community at Dalhousie University.

What does academic integrity mean?

Academic integrity means being honest in the fulfillment of your academic responsibilities, thus establishing mutual trust. Fairness is essential to the interactions of the academic community and is achieved through respect for the opinions and ideas of others. “Violations of intellectual honesty are offensive to the entire academic community, not just to the individual faculty member and students in whose class an offence occurs.”

(<http://ug.cal.dal.ca/UREG.htm#12>)

How can you achieve academic integrity?

- Make sure you understand Dalhousie's policies on academic integrity.
- While discussion with your fellow students is valuable, do not submit an assignment or essay that is essentially identical to an assignment or essay submitted by another individual or group.
- In assignments or essays, use an approved method of citation for any material taken directly from an existing source or any material that is a paraphrase of an existing source.
- Do not download the work of another from the Internet and submit it as your own.

- Do not submit work that has been completed through collaboration or previously submitted for another assignment without permission from your instructor.
- Do not have someone else write a test for you, or write a test for someone else.
- During a test, do not talk with other students and do not try to copy the work of another student.

What will happen if an allegation of an academic offence is made against you?

Instructors are required to report any suspected offence. The full process is outlined in the Discipline flow chart (found at <http://academicintegrity.dal.ca>) and includes the following:

- Each Faculty has an Academic Integrity Officer (AIO) who receives allegations from instructors.
- The AIO decides whether to proceed with the allegation and you will be notified of the process.
- If the case proceeds, you will receive a PENDING grade until the matter is resolved.
- If you are found guilty of an academic offence, a penalty will be assigned ranging from a warning to suspension or expulsion from the University and can include a notation on your transcript, failure of the assignment, or failure of the course. All penalties are academic in nature.

Where can you turn for help?

- If you are ever unsure about ANYTHING, contact your instructor.
- See <http://academicintegrity.dal.ca> for links to policies, definitions, online tutorials, and tips on citing and paraphrasing.
- See <http://writingcentre.dal.ca> for assistance with proofreading, writing styles, and citations.
- See <http://libraries.dal.ca/research.html> for a set of research tools including Subject Guides, Assignment Calculator, and RefWorks.
- See <http://studentservices.dal.ca> for assistance with appeals and discipline procedures.
- See <http://senate.dal.ca> for a list of Academic Integrity Officers, a discipline flow chart, and the Senate Discipline Committee.

The Policy on Student Submission of Assignments & Use of Originality Checking Software states that “any instructor may require student assignments to be submitted in both written and electronic (computer-readable) form, e.g., a text file or as an email attachment, as defined by the instructor. Use of third-party originality checking software does not preclude instructor use of alternate means to identify lapses in originality and attribution. The results of such assessment may be used as evidence in any disciplinary action taken by the Senate.”
