Department of Economics
ECON 2212: Law and Economics
Winter 2024

Instructor(s): Tyler James tjames@stewartmckelvey.com

Lectures: Mondays from 5:35 to 8:25pm

Office Hours: Office Hours held by request in personal or via Microsoft Teams

Course Description

Law and Economics is the study of optimal legal frameworks. Microeconomic theory will be used to study the efficiencies of property, contract, tort, criminal, and antitrust law. Further, there will be a critical analysis of the role of the Competition Bureau in Canadian markets, and the tools used to evaluate transactions on a case by case basis.

Course Prerequisite

- ECON 1101: Principles of Microeconomics

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes

This course will provide a broad overview of the relationship between law and economics, as well as the basics of Canada's legal system. Students will acquire the skills to evaluate efficiencies and the basic theories of ownership, contract, tort and criminal law.

Students will also learn how the Competition Bureau operates, with a focus on the skills used to analyze proposed transactions and their potential market effects.

No prior knowledge of the law is required.

Course Materials

- Cooter, R and Ulen, T. Law and Economics 6th edition
 - Available free at: <http://scholarship.law.berkeley.edu/books/2/>
- Additional specific readings may be made available in Brightspace, as required

University Policies and Statements

This course is governed by the academic rules and regulations set forth in the University Calendar and by Senate

Academic Integrity

At Dalhousie University, we are guided in all of our work by the values of academic integrity: honesty, trust, fairness, responsibility and respect (The Center for Academic Integrity, Duke University, 1999). As a student, you are required to demonstrate these values in all of the work you do. The University provides policies and procedures that every member of the university community is required to follow to ensure academic integrity.

Accessibility

The Advising and Access Services Centre is Dalhousie's centre of expertise for student accessibility and accommodation. The advising team works with students who request accommodation as a result of a disability, religious obligation, or any barrier related to any other characteristic protected under Human Rights legislation (Canada and Nova Scotia).

Information: https://www.dal.ca/campus_life/academic-support/accessibility.html

Student Code of Conduct

Everyone at Dalhousie is expected to treat others with dignity and respect. The Code of Student Conduct allows Dalhousie to take disciplinary action if students don't follow this community expectation. When appropriate, violations of the code can be resolved in a reasonable and informal manner—perhaps through a restorative justice process. If an informal resolution can't be reached, or would be inappropriate, procedures exist for formal dispute resolution.

Diversity and Inclusion – Culture of Respect

Every person at Dalhousie has a right to be respected and safe. We believe inclusiveness is fundamental to education. We stand for equality. Dalhousie is strengthened in our diversity. We are a respectful and inclusive community. We are committed to being a place where everyone feels welcome and supported, which is why our Strategic Direction prioritizes fostering a culture of diversity and inclusiveness

Statement: <http://www.dal.ca/cultureofrespect.html>

Recognition of Mi'kmaq Territory

Dalhousie University would like to acknowledge that the University is on Traditional Mi'kmaq Territory. The Elders in Residence program provides students with access to First Nations elders for guidance, counsel and support. Visit or e-mail the Indigenous Student Centre (1321 Edward St) (elders@dal.ca).
