Course Description
This course offers a self-contained introduction to differential and integral calculus. The topics include functions, limits, differentiation of polynomial, trigonometric, exponential and logarithmic functions, product, quotient and chain rules, applications of differentiation, antiderivatives and definite integrals, integration by substitution. A sequel to this course is MATH 1010.03

Course Prerequisites
Nova Scotia Mathematics advanced 11 and 12 or pre-calculus. Pre-calculus is highly recommended.

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes
- Understand the significance of limits, continuity, differentiability and integrability of functions.
- Understand the significance of the Intermediate Value Theorem as well as the Mean Value Theorem / Rolle’s Theorem.
- Be able to sketch a reasonably accurate graph of a given function by hand, using calculus.
- Be able to use calculus to solve optimization and related rates problems.
- Be able to compute derivatives as well as basic integrals.
- Understand the connection between differentiation and integration given by the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus.

Course Policies

1. Students are expected to take responsibility for progressing through the online course material (reading assignments, lecture recordings, videos, etc.) in a timely fashion. They should follow the posted schedule/timeline.

2. Students need to complete each assignment and quiz on time to ensure they build up the necessary skills for the upcoming tasks.

3. Attendance of weekly live lectures is highly recommended to ensure students stay on track.

4. Students are expected to only submit their own work reflecting their personal and individual effort. Any violation may result in disciplinary measures initiated by the instructor.
5. Assignments are in webwork and can be accessed through the course webpage in Brightspace. If students need help/tips with assignments, they should use the “Email Instructor” link that appears with every problem rather than email the instructor directly.

6. One assignment is posted every week on Friday and students have a week to finish it, upon which time the next assignment is posted.

University Policies and Statements

This course is governed by the academic rules and regulations set forth in the University Calendar and by Senate

Academic Integrity

At Dalhousie University, we are guided in all of our work by the values of academic integrity: honesty, trust, fairness, responsibility and respect (The Center for Academic Integrity, Duke University, 1999). As a student, you are required to demonstrate these values in all of the work you do. The University provides policies and procedures that every member of the university community is required to follow to ensure academic integrity.

Accessibility

The Advising and Access Services Centre is Dalhousie's centre of expertise for student accessibility and accommodation. The advising team works with students who request accommodation as a result of a disability, religious obligation, or any barrier related to any other characteristic protected under Human Rights legislation (Canada and Nova Scotia).

Student Code of Conduct

Everyone at Dalhousie is expected to treat others with dignity and respect. The Code of Student Conduct allows Dalhousie to take disciplinary action if students don’t follow this community expectation. When appropriate, violations of the code can be resolved in a reasonable and informal manner—perhaps through a restorative justice process. If an informal resolution can’t be reached, or would be inappropriate, procedures exist for formal dispute resolution.

Diversity and Inclusion – Culture of Respect
Every person at Dalhousie has a right to be respected and safe. We believe inclusiveness is fundamental to education. We stand for equality. Dalhousie is strengthened in our diversity. We are a respectful and inclusive community. We are committed to being a place where everyone feels welcome and supported, which is why our Strategic Direction prioritizes fostering a culture of diversity and inclusiveness.
