

Faculty of Health Honour Statement

The Faculty of Health sets a high standard for commitment to professional behaviours, self-awareness, skills development, and the ethics of our respective fields of practice, research, and study. We expect students to consider themselves active members of their professional fields, committing to uphold all the rights and responsibilities thereof from the first day of classes and throughout their programs to graduation and beyond.

Particularly in this time of a global pandemic, students, staff, and faculty in the Faculty of Health carry increased responsibility to be role models for compliance with territorial, Canadian, and global public health orders. As a Faculty we aspire for transformational health to start with us: students, staff, and faculty who value integrity, equity, inclusion, and well-being in our interactions with one another, in our academics, and in our clinical and research practice.

Specific behaviours with which we anticipate your full cooperation include:

- Staying at home if you are unwell or if you have a positive COVID-19 test result
- Being truthful in answering COVID-19 pre-screening questions
- Being vigilant in handwashing and hygiene
- Being in Dalhousie buildings for class and library purposes only, leaving upon conclusion of scheduled activity
- Following public health orders under the Nova Scotia Health Protection Act or the jurisdiction where you live
- If/When in Halifax:
  - o Wearing a mask upon entering and throughout Dalhousie buildings
  - o Maintaining required physical distancing, including not congregating in Dalhousie buildings
  - o Accessing Dalhousie buildings only with permission

For campus students, please do not go to campus if you are not feeling well; for Dalhousie students anywhere, please do not go to your placement if you are not feeling well. As a Faculty of Health we are committed to reducing risk of outbreak wherever you live. We appreciate your commitment to your research, courses, and practice education to move through your degree; in addition, there is a collective need we must heed, which is the health and well-being of our full teaching, learning, and living communities.

If you have a concern about a possible breach of the Health Protection Act Order of the Medical Officer for Nova Scotia, please contact the Director of the School/College associated with the staff, student, or faculty member.

1. I attest that I have read this Faculty of Health Honour Statement and agree to abide by its expectations. I understand there are implications for not abiding by this statement, including actions being taken under the Suspension or Dismissal from a Program on the Grounds of Professional Unsuitability Policy or the Code of Student Conduct. As well, the applicable regulatory body and placement site may need to be notified.
