

Larry Maloney Lecture: Making Connections through and in Sport

School of Health and Human Performance

You are invited to join Ken Bagnell (BSc'84, BPE'85, MA'87), President of The Canadian Sport Centre Atlantic and Janice Cogle, Manager of Participation Development for Sport NS in a discussion on Making Connections through and in Sport.

Since its inception in 1998, the Canadian Sport Centre Atlantic (CSCA) has coordinated and delivered sport services to coaches and athletes throughout Atlantic Canada. It has developed partnerships and implemented programs that have helped build Atlantic Canada's high performance sport structure, and has led to sizeable Atlantic Canadian Olympic/Paralympic contingents at recent Games.

The CSCA provides Pathway Programs to identify needs and gaps for athletes and coaches to help them progress along their sport pathway. This entails partnering with sport organizations to ensure alignment and best practices for a healthy and successful sport system. Hear about IGNITE, Game Plan and RBC Training Ground programs and the role they play in sport development, along with their Integrated Support Team and Coaching Services.

The Sport NS - Manager of Participant Development provides consulting that supports the implementation of Canadian Sport for Life/Long Term Athlete Development and manages the Community Sport Development Coordinator program which assess program needs, identify resources and establishes new opportunities for sport participation.

Sport NS also supports community members who have an interest in the start up or development of Community Sport Organizations, and helps strengthen established regional sports through program development, funding and fundraising.
