Dalhousie University presents the

Africentric Bachelor of Social Work

The program incorporates the principles and values of Nguzo Saba and Ubuntu.

These African philosophical and cultural frameworks create a learning environment that not only imparts academic knowledge, but also nurtures cultural identity, social responsibility, and a sense of belonging within the broader community.

We need your support in the mentorship of our students based on the Africentric principles and cultural competency.

Mentorship Program

Africentric Bachelor of Social Work

Mentoring is a silent yet powerful legacy. Your wisdom echoes in the achievements of those you guide.

Volunteer as a Mentor

Are you interested in mentoring Africentric students? Are you looking to develop your mentorship skills and expand your network?

What is this Mentorship Program about?

The establishment of the “Africentric Bachelor of Social Work Mentorship Program” aims to provide students in our Africentric social work cohort with an opportunity to receive guidance and support from experienced professionals in the field.

This mentorship program seeks to empower students by connecting them with mentors who have expertise in Africentric social work, enhancing their academic and professional growth.

We will be happy to have you register as one of our mentors, and remember that in the journey of mentorship, you are not guiding steps, you are shaping destinies and your impact is immeasurable.
