

DALHOUSIE HEALTH JUSTICE INSTITUTE SEMINAR SERIES 2025 - 2026

Friday September 19

It's Not a Policing Matter: Decriminalizing Mental Health Crises

Jamie Livingston

Department of Criminology, Saint Mary's University

Friday October 17

Not Lawless at all: Abortion in Canada

Martha Paynter

Faculty of Nursing, University of New Brunswick

Friday October 24

Making the Technical Political: The Long Road to the Pandemic Agreement

Roojin Habibi

Faculty of Law (Common Law Section), University of Ottawa

Friday November 7

Co-hosted with Chancellor's Chair in Aboriginal Law and Policy

Making the State Do the Right Thing: A Decade of Jordan's Principle Litigation

David Taylor

Partner, Conway Litigation, Ottawa

Friday January 16

Connecting Mental Health and Justice: Scaling up Health Justice Partnerships in Mental Health Settings

Tess Sheldon

Health Justice Clinic in Mental Health and Addictions, Faculty of Law, University of Windsor

Friday February 13

Co-hosted with Chancellor's Chair in Aboriginal Law and Policy

W'loti

John R. Sylliboy

Vice-Provost Indigenous Relations, Dalhousie University

Friday February 27

Reflections from Canada's Federal Housing Advocate

Marie-Josée Houle

Federal Housing Advocate

Friday March 20

Fail Better: Health Justice Lessons from Nova Scotia's Deinstitutionalization and Prison Abolition Movements

Sheila Wildeman

Health Justice Institute, Schulich School of Law, Dalhousie University

DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY

SCHULICH SCHOOL OF LAW
Health Justice Institute

NO REGISTRATION REQUIRED.

FOR MORE INFORMATION: dhji@dal.ca or 902.494.6881

Series hosted by the Dalhousie Health Justice Institute with support from the Schulich School of Law

FREE PUBLIC LECTURES

12:10pm - 1:20pm

IN PERSON ONLY: Room 104 | Weldon Law Building |
6061 University Ave.

Light Refreshments will be provided in the same room as the lecture

DAL.CA/DHJI/SEMINAR-SERIES