

CSE Citation Style - Quick Guide

This quick guide summarizes rules set out by the Council of Science Editors (CSE) in Scientific Style and Format, sometimes known as the “CSE style manual”. In addition to providing formatting rules, it serves as a guideline for consistency among references and their in-text citations. CSE provides a choice of three systems for citing references within a text: Citation-Sequence, Citation-Name, and Name-Year. This guide uses the Name-Year system, in which in-text citations provide the author names and year of publication to identify the sources. If you are required to use another format or require further information, please refer to the CSE manual:

[CSE] Council of Science Editors, Style Manual Subcommittee. 2014. Scientific style and format: the CSE manual for authors, editors, and publishers. 8th ed. Chicago (IL): Council of Science Editors. 722 p.

[Available in Killam Library Reference Room – Call number: REF T 11 S386 2014]

A Few Rules of the CSE Style (see also sample references section on last page)

1. Journal titles: When citing a journal, use the official abbreviation of its title. (See last page for resources on official abbreviations.) Within the reference, end the journal abbreviation with a period. If the journal is electronic, include the medium designator [Internet], and place the period after the square bracket.

e.g. Can J Fish Aquat Sci. Mol Cell Biol. Forest Ecol Manag [Internet].

However, if the journal title consists of one word, there is no need to abbreviate it.

e.g. Science. Nature. Bioscience.

2. Article or book title: When citing the title of a book or chapter, or an article title, capitalize the first word of the title and any proper nouns or adjectives. Any other words should be in lower case letters.

e.g. Microbial activity at the sediment-water interface in Halifax Harbor, Canada

3. Author names: In a bibliography, the author name is presented last name first, followed by a space, and then the author initials as given (but without periods). e.g. Levinton JS Gupta R

Within a reference, list the author names in the same order as they are listed on the article. This reflects the amount of work each researcher contributed. The author whose name appears first on the article or work is known as the “first author” or “primary author”. Separate the author names with commas.

4. Taxonomic names: Write the Latin or scientific names of organisms in italics:

e.g. Salmo salar Pinus ponderosa Danio rerio

With regard to the names of higher orders, capitalize the name but do not italicize:

e.g. Lepidoptera Cetacea Ranunculaceae

5. Medium designator: For non-print items, a medium designator is required in the reference. Include it in square brackets after the item title. Examples include:

[CD-ROM] [DVD] [videocassette] [microfiche]

6. Content designator: Also placed in square brackets, this is optional but informative. Examples include:

[dissertation] [master’s thesis] [abstract] [computer program]

The following pages provide examples of how to reference a variety of types of sources in science writing and how to cite them in the text of a scientific paper or laboratory report.

Journal Article

Author(s). Publication Date. Article title. Journal Title Abbrev. volume number(issue number):inclusive pages.

Note: CSE style does not explicitly state that a URL is required when referencing the pdf of an online article (although it does provide examples of pdf article references that include a URL). This guide assumes that article pdfs can be cited as though they were print (paper) articles.

One author

MacRae TH. 1997. Tubulin post-translational modifications: enzymes and their mechanisms of action. Eur J Biochem. 244(2):265-278.

From two to ten authors: List all authors

Srivastava DS, Staicer CA, Freedman B. 1995. Aquatic vegetation of Nova Scotian lakes differing in acidity and trophic status. Aquat Bot. 51(3-4):181-196.

More than ten authors: List the 1st to 10th authors, followed by 'et al'.

Adl SM, Leander BS, Simpson AGB, Archibald JM, Anderson OR, Bass D, Bowser SS, Brugerolle G, Farmer MA, Karpov S, et al. 2007. Diversity, nomenclature, and taxonomy of protists. Syst Biol. 56(4):684-689.

Article in a journal supplement

Savage N. 2011. Fuel options: the ideal fuel. Nature. 474(7352 Suppl):S9-S11.

Online article (when there are no page numbers, but article has a document number)

Fishman J, Taylor L, Frank I. 2016. Awareness of HPV and uptake of vaccination in a high-risk population. Pediatrics. 138(2):e20152048. [about 11 p.].

Online article (when there is no pdf)

McDaniel CJ, Crowder LB, Priddy JA. 2000. Spatial dynamics of sea turtle abundance and shrimping intensity in the U.S. Gulf of Mexico. Ecol Soc. [accessed 2016 Aug 24];4(1):[about 15 p.].

Book

Author(s) or editor(s). Publication Date. Title. Edition. Place of publication: Publisher. Extent.

Note: "Extent" refers to the total number of pages or the page numbering. In a reference to an entire book, this element is optional, but in a reference to a part of a book (eg. a chapter), include the pagination of the part.

One author

Keddy PA. 2010. Wetland ecology: principles and conservation. 2nd ed. New York: Cambridge University Press.

Two or more authors

Glasner P, Rothman H. 2004. Splicing life?: the new genetics and society. Aldershot (GB): Ashgate. 149 p.

Organization or government body as author

[CWF] Canadian Wildlife Federation. [date unknown]. Annual report 2013-14. Kanata (ON): Canadian Wildlife Federation.

Anonymous or no author (use title as initial element)

Nature encyclopedia. 2001. New York: Oxford University Press.

Book with editor

Newspaper Article

Author(s). Publication Date. Article title. Full Newspaper Title. Section: first page (column).

Print newspaper article:

Weber B. 2011 Aug 27. Caribou recovery strategy allows more development on critical oil sands habitat. Globe and Mail. Sect. A:12 (col. 2).

Online article from a newspaper database, such as Factiva or Eureka:

Weber B. 2011 Aug 27. Caribou recovery strategy allows more development on critical oil sands habitat. Globe and Mail. [accessed 2012 Sept 5]; Sect. A:12.: <http://global.factiva.com/ha/default.aspx>.

Note: In this example, the online version of the article did not provide a column number.

Online article from a newspaper website:

Panacci A. 2016 Aug 25. Wilderness park proposed for Purcell's Cove. Chronicle-Herald (Halifax, NS). [accessed 2016 Aug 27]; <http://thechronicleherald.ca/novascotia/1391608-wilderness-park-proposed-for-purcell%E2%80%99s-cove>.

Note:

The CSE manual provides guidelines to assist researchers who are writing scientific papers and citing scholarly sources, such as journal articles and technical reports. If a type of publication or resource is not included in the manual, you can use the guidelines to build a reference, as in the following example:

Lab Exercise (not included in the official CSE Guidelines)

Author (if unknown replace with title of lab exercise). Year. Title of lab exercise. Course number, Department, University.

Schmidt A, Britten G. 2012. Metapopulations: habitat, dispersal and extinction. BIOL 2060, Department of Biology, Dalhousie University.

Dataset

Author(s). Publication Date. Title [content designator]. Place of publication: Publisher; [date updated; accessed date]. URL.

Stinson K, Donohue K. 2006. Invasive species mapping at Harvard Forest 2005 [dataset]. Albuquerque (NM): US Long Term Ecological Research Network; [updated 2006 Feb 16; accessed 2016 Aug 22]. <http://metacat.lternet.edu:8080/knb/metacat/knb-lter-hfr.79.10/lter>.

Personal Communications

References to personal communications (e.g. letters, personal conversations, email messages) should be placed in the body of the paper rather than listed in the references section. Example:

During the 2007 season, observers noted four humpback females in the bay, while the following year, only two females were seen (2009 email message from R Comeau to the author; unreferenced).

Website

Author(s). Publication Date. Title of website. Place of publication: Publisher; [date updated; accessed date]. URL.

Note: If a website does not have a date of publication, instead include the date of update and the date on which you cited it, which will help to provide an indication of the currency of the site. For the date of update, use the wording provided by the website (eg. modified, revised, updated, etc...).

Blog Post

Author(s). Publication Date. Title of post [descriptive word]. Title of blog. [accessed date]. URL.

Citing sources within the text using the Name-Year (N-Y) system

Within the text of your paper or document, to cite an author's work (i.e., to paraphrase and acknowledge the source of the information), give the Author(s) last names only and Year. The citation belongs inside a sentence of text, before the period, and is often given in parentheses as shown in the examples below. All sources cited in the text of a paper must be included in the list of references and all references must be cited in the text.

Examples of citations within parentheses in the text of a paper:

One author:	(Akunda 2004)
Two authors:	(Adams and Wong 1999)
More than two authors:	(Bhattacharya et al. 1986)
Anonymous or no author:	(Nature...2001) Use the first few words of the title, followed by an ellipsis
Government or Corporate author:	(Fisheries and Oceans Canada 2010)
No date:	(CWF [date unknown])
Works by same author in different years	(Chen 1998, 2005) Separate years with a comma
Works by same author in same year	(Wackernagel et al. 1999a, 1999b) Use lower-case letters starting with 'a'
Works by multiple authors*	(Bhattacharya et al. 1986; Chen 1998, 2005; Akunda 2004). *arrange sources first by year of publication and then by author, separating authors with a semi-colon

Placement of in-text citations

An in-text citation should appear next to the text to which it refers. Here are several examples of where to locate an in-text citation within a sentence:

An early report (Blais 2010) identified two areas of concern...

Studies in the Bay of Fundy (Myers 1999, 2001) have shown that...

Knockwood and Boudreau (2011) found that the population had decreased by 34%, although later studies (Chou 2012; Colley et al. 2015) indicated a return to pre-disturbance numbers.

The International Epithelial Tissue Lab developed the 24-SA technique only three months before the launch of the nano-analyzer (Kwami 2016).

References or Literature Cited Section

The cited sources must be arranged alphabetically by author name. Within a given source, be sure to maintain the original order of the scientists' names. Use a hanging indent to format the list of references, a technique that makes it easy to locate a reference by the primary author.
