

Faculty of Management May Research Day

May 17th, 2022
 10:30am-4:00pm
 Virtual and In-person

	Virtual research presentations Microsoft Teams Click here to join the meeting
10:30am-11:45am	Presenter	Title
	Jenny Chen	An investigation on the impact of counterfeiting and traceability in the secondary market
	Shannon Lin and Greg Hebb	Are banks better money doctors?-- An analysis of mutual fund flows of bank and non-bank funds using Canadian data
	Qi Deng	Do emojis clutter messages or add value? The effects on brand perceptions
11:45am-12:45pm	Lunch break In-person lunch served at University Hall, Macdonald Building
12:45pm – 2:45pm	In-person research presentations University Hall, Macdonald Building
	Presenter	Title
	Tisha King	What a relief: The impact of retributive justice and related outcomes on taxpayer's covid-19 relief compliance
	Colin Conrad	How to make productive use of work-from-home technology: Preliminary results and ongoing projects
	Philippe Mongeon	The Quantitative Science Studies Lab: A research program
	Dominika Wranik and Isabelle Caron	Staying motivated: The study protocol for a life course analysis of the career paths of Canadian public servants
	Bill Foster	Structure versus agency, or structure and agency? Understanding social network embeddedness
2:45pm – 3:00pm	Cheese and wine
3:00pm – 4:00pm	Chat (and wine) University Hall, Macdonald Building
	Leading the chat	Topic
	Louis Beaubien	PhD in Management