

Canadian Politics Assistant Professor -Probationary Tenure-Track Position Democratic Governance and Public Policy

Department of Political Science

Dalhousie University

Halifax, NS

POSTING NUMBER: F66P
POSTING LINK: <https://dal.peopleadmin.ca/postings/2679>
OPEN DATE: January 6, 2020
CLOSING DATE: August 15, 2020

The Political Science Department at Dalhousie University invites applications for a probationary tenure-track position in Canadian Politics at the level of Assistant Professor, with a focus on Democratic Governance and Public Policy. Candidates should have expertise in Canadian political institutions, theories of public policy and one or more area(s) of public policy. The search is open to scholarship reflecting a wide variety of approaches to the study of democratic governance and public policy including but not limited to anti-colonial and anti-racism perspectives. The successful candidate's research program and record should reflect a strong commitment to the study of democratic institutions, governance and policy processes in Canada. They will be expected to teach and supervise at the undergraduate and graduate levels (at BA, MA, and PhD levels) in Canadian politics and to contribute to Dalhousie's interdisciplinary programs. Candidates must have a PhD in hand by the start date of the appointment; a promising research profile and agenda; and demonstrated potential for teaching excellence. This position is subject to budgetary approval.

Established in 1818, Dalhousie is a leading research-intensive university offering more than 180 degree programs in 11 faculties. It is the largest university in Atlantic Canada and is located in the heart of Halifax, a scenic coastal city and capital of Nova Scotia, which is home to 13 Mi'kmaq First Nations, a deeply rooted African Canadian community, and an increasingly diverse population. The Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences is a dynamic body of students, faculty, and staff arranged in more than twenty programs and departments, many offering graduate degrees.

Please submit complete applications, including: a letter of application; a Curriculum Vitae; a writing sample (one publication, max. 25 pp.); a statement of research interests; a teaching dossier addressing teaching effectiveness and teaching interests; and the names and contact information of three academic referees.

Dalhousie University is committed to fostering a collegial culture grounded in diversity and inclusiveness. The university encourages applications from Indigenous persons, persons with a disability, racially visible persons, women, persons of a minority sexual orientation and/or gender identity, and all candidates who would contribute to the diversity of our community. For more information, please visit www.dal.ca/hiringfordiversity

The deadline for completed applications online is August 15, 2020. The appointment would begin July 1, 2021. Please visit <https://dal.peopleadmin.ca/postings/2679> to apply for the position. Hard copies of applications will not be accepted.