We live in an era of rapid change world-wide, in which political activities and decisions hold striking consequences for peoples’ lives. In Western Europe, for example, politicians and citizens are struggling with the implications of deeper and wider European integration for their own nation-states; in Eastern Europe, former Communist countries are attempting the difficult transition to liberal democratic and market-based political and economic structures; in Mexico, citizens are struggling to overcome the legacies of an authoritarian system and secure a democratic future; and in China, Communist leaders are attempting to promote economic liberalization without conceding the demise of their political order. This course proceeds on the assumption that it is fascinating to study diverse political systems and processes in their own right; but further, that through comparison and generalization, we can gain a better understanding of the characteristics of politics everywhere, including our own country.

The course surveys the methods and scope of Comparative Politics. It does so through an examination of what have been the three major classifications of political systems in the post-World War II world: western democracies (industrial, capitalist nations); communist and former communist systems (centrally planned economies); and "Third World" countries (an increasingly problematic term encompassing "Newly Industrializing Countries" and "Less Developed Countries"). After a general overview of the nature of these classifications, countries from each will be studied in depth. Concepts and theories which are useful for comparing political life in various countries will be discussed in the second term.

FORMAT
The class will meet for 3 one-hour sessions per week. Generally speaking, there will be two core lectures per week. Opportunities for questions and discussion will be built into this time. In addition, throughout the year, students will undertake and present group projects linking case studies to the cases and concepts studied in the course. In general, one lecture hour will be devoted to a group presentation every second week. On Fridays, in addition to regular lecture material, there will also be special sessions on writing and research methods, as well as reviews of examination techniques.

The grading thresholds are:

- 90-100 = A+
- 77-79 = B+
- 65-69 = C+
- 50-54 = D
- 85-89 = A
- 73-76 = B
- 60-64 = C
- below 50 = F
- 80-84 = A-
- 70-72 = B-
- 55-59 = C-

Note that the deadline by which a student may withdraw from the course is February 3rd 2015. (Early deadline: 3rd November 2014).
TEXTBOOKS:
Students are expected to purchase the following text, which forms the basic reading requirements of the course: John McCormick, Comparative Politics in Transition 7th edition (Belmont, CA: Wadsworth/Thompson, 2013). This text comes with access to internet sites and online databases. Furthermore, required readings packages for each term will be available at Julia’s Photocopy, found at 1525 Lemarchant Street. The readers will available for purchase at the beginning of each semester.

RESERVE READINGS:
Additional books have been placed on reserve in the Killam Library for those interested in a particular group of countries. These texts include:

Paul Cammack, et. al., Third World Politics: A Comparative Introduction.

Charles Hauss, Comparative Politics: Domestic Responses to Global Challenges.

Stephen White, et. al., Communist and Post-communist Political Systems: An Introduction.

Howard Wiarda, Comparative Democracy and Democratization.

Other useful texts and readings have also been placed on reserve. Some of these are assigned for specific class topics; others will be valuable in preparations for exams, essays and group projects.

COMPARATIVE POLITICS ON THE WEB:
A BbLearn site has been set up for Political Science 2300. This site features course handouts, links to websites detailing case study countries, resources for study, essay writing, and general Internet resources for political scientists. There are many valuable resources for political analysis on the web including government and party pages, journalistic and news resources, commentaries by interest groups, political dissidents, etc., as well as information about the cultures, societies and economies of our case studies and most other countries in the world. Furthermore, information on formatting and citations for Political Science term papers is available via the Killam Library and online at http://politicalscience.dal.ca/resources/termpapers.htm.

COURSE OUTLINE: Term 1
We begin by examining the comparative politics field and assessing the broad political characteristics of what have been the three main categories of countries - Western Democratic, Communist/former Communist, and Third World. Increasingly, as discussed by John McCormick in one of the two texts, the idea of a “Third World” is being replaced by several new categories, two of which will be examined in the course: Newly Industrializing Countries (NICs) and Less Developed Countries (LDCs). We then study in greater detail the political history and institutions of key countries from each of these groupings - the United Kingdom and Japan from the developed industrial world, the (former) USSR and China from the Communist/post-Communist world, Mexico and India from the NICs, South Africa as a mixed case, and Nigeria from the LDCs. Finally, we look at the policy outputs of the different types of systems: what kinds of social and economic policies have emerged, and how those policies are made.

OUTLINE OF TOPICS

Week 1-2: Introduction to the course; overview of Comparative Politics

Recommended:

Week 3: Comparing Post-Industrial and Transitional Socialist Systems

Read:
Hague & Harrop, Chapter 5, “Democracy”
McCormick, pp. 23-33 and 193-205

Recommended:

Week 4: Comparing the old ”Third World”: NICs, and LDCs

Read: McCormick, pp. 289-301 & 385-399.
Hauss, Chapter 11, “The Less Developed Countries.”
Mahler, G. S., & MacInnis, Donald, Comparative Politics: An institutional and cross-national approach, 2001 Ch. 8
Wiarda, Howard, Introduction to Comparative Politics, ch. 3
Pritchett, Lant, “Divergence, Big Time.”

Recommended:

Week 5: Presidentialism: Politics in the United States

Read: McCormick, pp. 70-78, 81-92.

Recommended: Hauss, Chapter 3, “The United States” (On Reserve).

Week 6: Parliamentarism: Politics in the U.K. and Japan

Week 7: Politics in China

Recommended: Hauss, Chapter 10, “China” (On Reserve).

Week 8: Politics in Russia

Recommended: Hauss, Chapter 9, “Russia” (On Reserve).

Week 9: Politics in India

Recommended: Hauss, Chapter 12, “India” (On Reserve).

Week 10: Politics in Mexico

Read: McCormick, pp. 302-310, 313-323.

Recommended: Hauss, Chapter 16, “Mexico” (On Reserve).

Week 11: Politics in South Africa

Week 12: Politics in Nigeria

Read: McCormick, pp. 400-409, 411-422.

Recommended: Hauss, Chapter 15, “Nigeria.”

Week 13: Policy Outcomes: North and South

Read: Frank Wilson, Concepts and Issues in Comparative Politics, 2nd ed, Ch 11.
Additional reading TBA.*

Recommended: White, et. al., ch. 6 (On Reserve).
Week 14: Review of the Term's Work

**************************************************

Term 2

The course continues with an examination of the cultural environment of political life, and the informal institutions linking state and society, including mass media, interest groups, and political parties. It also examines social divisions like class, gender, and ethnicity. The role of the military and police, political leadership and participation, and future prospects for our case studies will also be examined. These themes will be illustrated with selected examples from the case studies.

N.B. Readings for the second semester are subject to change. If changes are made, a revised reading list will be provided in January 2013.

Week 1: Political Culture and Socialization: Concepts

Read: Hague & Harrop, Chapter 7, “Political Culture.”
Mahler, G. S., & MacInnis, Donald, Comparative Politics: An institutional and cross-national approach, 2001, pp. 24-32.

Week 2: Political Culture and Socialization: cases

Putnam, Robert, “Tuning In, Tuning Out: The Strange Disappearance of Social Capital in America.”

Recommended: White, et. al., ch. 2 (On Reserve).

Week 3: Mass Media in Politics

Read: Hague & Harrop, Chapter 8, “Political Communication.”
Watch video:

Recommended: David Taras, The Newsmakers Chapter 1.

Week 4: Interest Groups and Classes: Concepts and Categories

Read: Hague & Harrop, Chapter 12, “Interest Groups.”
Week 5: Interest Groups and Classes: cases

Week 6: Military, Police and Civil Society

Read: Hague, Harrop, and Breslin, Chapter 14, “The Military”

Recommended
Frank Wilson, Concepts and issues in Comparative Politics, pp. 138-152.
Cammack et. al. Ch. 4 (On Reserve).

Week 7: Political parties and election systems in industrialized countries

Read: Hague & Harrop, Chapter 10, “Elections and voters,” and Chapter 11, “Political Parties.”

Week 8: SPRING STUDY BREAK

Week 9: Political parties and election systems in the "South"

Read: Hague, Harrop, & Breslin, pp. 143-145;* Cammack, et. al., ch. 3

Week 10: Political Cleavages: Ethnicity, Regionalism, Nationalism

Read: David Roth, Comparative Politics, ch. 3.
McCormick, pp. 246, 389, 446.

Recommended: Michael Keating, Nations Against the State chs, 1-3, 7.

Week 11: Political Cleavages: Gender

Read: Doris Anderson, The Unfinished Revolution (selections)

Recommended: Nelson and Chodhury (eds.), Women and Politics Worldwide, pages 3-24 and chapters on China, Britain, India, Japan, Mexico, Nigeria, Russia, etc.

Week 12: Political Participation and Leadership

Read: Hague & Harrop, Chapter 9, “Political Participation.”
Roth, Comparative Politics, ch. 6.
Weber, Max, “Politics as Vocation.”

Recommended: Frank Wilson, Concepts and Issues in Comparative Politics, 2nd ed, Chapters 4, 7.

Week 13: Political Change and Future Prospects

Read: Frank Wilson, Concepts and Issues in Comparative Politics, 2nd ed, Chapter 12
Hauss, Chapter 17, “Global Challenges & Domestic Responses.”

Recommended: Cammack, et. al., ch. 8 (on reserve)

Week 14: Review of the Term's Work

*********************************************

EVALUATION: The final grade will be arrived at as follows:

Attendance
First Term Essay proposal (4 pages/1,000 words) Due Oct. 3 10%
First Term Essay (10 pages/2,500 words) Due Nov. 21 5%
First Term Exam Dec. TBA 15%
Second Term Essay proposal (4 pages/1,000 words) Due Feb. 2 5%
Second Term Essay (10 pages/2,500 worlds) Due Mar. 23 15%
Group Project – Presentation TBA 7.5%
Group Project – Paper (8 pages/2,000 words) TBA 7.5%
Final Exam April, TBA 20%
Late Penalty: 2% per working day.
Essay topics will be distributed close to the start of each term.

PLAGIARISM AND OTHER UNACCEPTABLE PRACTICES:

Students are reminded that plagiarism (handing in another person's work as one's own or exact copying of the words of another author without attribution), submitting the same essay to more than 1 course, and close paraphrasing (reliance on a source with only minor alterations in wording) are unacceptable. Any paper submitted by a student at may be checked for originality to confirm that the student has not plagiarized from other sources. Plagiarism is considered a serious academic offence which may lead to loss of credit, suspension or expulsion from the University, or even the revocation of a degree. It is essential that there be correct attribution of authorities from which facts and opinions have been derived. At Dalhousie there are University Regulations which deal with plagiarism and, prior to submitting any paper in a course, students should read the Policy on Intellectual Honesty contained in the Calendar or on
STUDENT ACCESSIBILITY & ACCOMMODATION

Students may request accommodation as a result of barriers related to disability, religious obligation, or any characteristic under the Nova Scotia Human Rights Act. Students who require academic accommodation for either classroom participation or the writing of tests and exams should make their request to the Office of Student Accessibility & Accommodation (OSAA) prior to or at the outset of each academic term (with the exception of X/Y courses). Please see www.studentaccessibility.dal.ca for more information and to obtain the Request for Accommodation – Form A.

A note taker may be required to assist a classmate. There is an honorarium of $75/course/term. If you are interested, please contact OSAA at 494-2836 for more information.

Please note that your classroom may contain specialized accessible furniture and equipment. It is important that these items remain in the classroom so that students who require their usage will be able to participate in the class.

INFORMATION ABOUT POLICIES & WHERE TO GO FOR HELP

The main place to go for information about the course, class policies, copies of handouts, and assignment information and submission links is the course BBLearn/OWL page at https://dalhousie.blackboard.com/

The McCormick textbook comes with a companion website to provide additional resources for students, at www.cengage.com/politicalscience/mccormick/comparativepoliticsintransition7e

For other information you may use one of the following links:

* University Regulations, Undergraduate Calendar: http://www.dal.ca/academics/important_dates.html

* Academic Support: http://www.dal.ca/campus_life/student_services/academic-support/advising.html

* University Academic Integrity: http://academicintegrity.dal.ca/

* Advising and Access Services: http://www.dal.ca/access

* Libraries: http://libraries.dal.ca/

* Department of Political Science: http://www.dal.ca/faculty/arts/politicalscience.html