COURSE DESCRIPTION

Internet search engines such as Google, Yahoo, Bing, etc., often give the impression that finding answers to most questions has become a relatively simple process. However, doing an expert, comprehensive and efficient search for peer-reviewed and other high quality academic articles and grey literature appropriate for the production of systematic reviews of literature requires a specific set of knowledge and skills. This course explores the principles and methods involved in the retrieval of information from a wide array of proprietary and open access sources, including social media. It introduces students to effective and efficient searching of the literature, in particular the skills and knowledge needed to produce an effective search in support of a systematic review of literature. It addresses the competencies needed to complete comprehensive, systematic, transparent searches of the literature. Course discussion will include managing online search services, client engagement, search planning, online database structure and organization, content evaluation, and matching database search strategies to search interfaces.

COURSE PRE-REQUISITES

INFO 5515 Organization of Information
INFO 5530 Information Sources, Services, and Retrieval

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. Engage with clients to appropriately identify and effectively meet their information needs
2. Determine the nature and scope of information needs in unfamiliar subject areas
3. Name and describe key commercial databases that index literature in the arts, humanities, sciences, social sciences, health sciences and technology disciplines
4. Understand the importance of rigorous search methods
5. Learn effective and efficient searching skills that may be transferable to other information resources
6. Design current awareness services
7. Provide database search demonstrations and search skills coaching
8. Recognize the pitfalls and value of using grey literature sources
9. Understand social media from a searcher’s perspective: software types, functions and life cycle
LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successfully completing this course, students will be able to:

1. Understand the complexity of information needs of various clients
2. Identify a range of traditional and specialized databases; search engines and custom Google search engines
3. Produce a correct, reproducible search strategy
4. Use several accepted styles of searching and illustrate how to document them
5. Search for abstracts, unpublished policy documents, white papers, etc.
6. Become effective and efficient searchers
7. Understand the importance of rigorous search methods

TECHNOLOGY USED

Some assignments and class discussions may involve using the learning management system, Brightspace. It will have a digital copy of the syllabus and some readings and notifications and announcements. You should monitor this space frequently to get updates on assignment clarification or class updates.

To facilitate hands-on, active learning, students are required to bring laptops to every class. Please speak to the instructor if you need access to a laptop.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

Instruction will combine lecture, classroom discussion, guest speakers, demonstration and hands-on applications in class. Throughout the course, students should expect to be active learners, participating in small and large group discussions to identify, elaborate, and apply the concepts learned or to be learned. Our learning can best be supported by engaging in scholarly discussion and respectful debate. Critical thinking is encouraged within a climate of collegiality.

LEARNING MATERIALS

There is no required textbook for this class. Assigned readings that are not available through Dalhousie Libraries will be made available for students.

The following references will be consulted frequently:

METHODS OF EVALUATION

Detailed instructions regarding each assignment will be provided. Assessment of all assignments is directly related to attention to the instructions, clarity of expression and presentation, and evidence of critical thinking. See also the SIM Grading Policy.

CLASS POLICIES

Attendance

Class attendance is required in all MLIS courses and is included in the participation mark. Attendance records will be kept by the instructor.

Absence from class (one class)

Students are required to inform the instructor ahead of time of any absence from class. This absence may affect participation marks or class activities.

Absence from class (extended)

- Emergencies
  - Contact the MLIS Program Coordinator and provide a list of the courses you are taking and your instructors’ names.
Illness
- Contact your instructor(s) as soon as possible prior to class to inform him or her of your illness.
- All absences due to illness must be supported by a physician’s note to be submitted to the MLIS Program Coordinator (JoAnn Watson) with a list of courses you are taking and your instructors’ names.

Citation Style
SIM courses use APA as the default standard citation style. Unless the instructor provides alternative written instructions, please use the APA citation style in your assignments to briefly identify (cite) other people’s ideas and information and to indicate the sources of these citations in the References list at the end of the assignment. For more information on APA style, consult Dalhousie Library website at https://libraries.dal.ca/help/style-guides.html or the APA’s Frequently Asked Questions about APA

Late penalties for assignments
A penalty for late assignments will be assessed, unless prior permission has been given by the instructor to submit an assignment late, which normally will be for extended illness, medical, or family emergencies only (see above). Late submissions will be assessed a penalty of five percent per day, including weekends. Assignments will not normally be accepted seven days or more after the due date; in such cases the student will receive a grade of zero.

ACCOMMODATION POLICY FOR STUDENTS
Students may request accommodation as a result of barriers experienced related to disability, religious obligation, or any characteristic protected under Canadian human rights legislation.

Students who require academic accommodation for either classroom participation or the writing of tests and exams should make their request to the Advising and Access Services Center (AASC) prior to or at the outset of the regular academic year. Please visit www.dal.ca/access for more information and to obtain the Request for Accommodation form.

A note taker may be required as part of a student’s accommodation. There is an honorarium of $75/course/term (with some exceptions). If you are interested, please contact AASC at 494-2836 for more information or send an email to notetaking@dal.ca.

Please note that your classroom may contain specialized accessible furniture and equipment. It is important that these items remain in the classroom, untouched, so that students who require their usage will be able to fully participate in the class.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

In general:

The commitment of the Faculty of Management is to graduate future leaders of business, government and civil society who manage with integrity and get things done. This is non-negotiable in our community and it starts with your first class at Dalhousie University. So when you submit any work for evaluation in this course or any other, please ensure that you are familiar with your obligations under the Faculty of Management’s Academic Integrity Policies and that you understand where to go for help and advice in living up to our standards. You should be familiar with the Faculty of Management Professor and Student Contract on Academic Integrity, and it is your responsibility to ask questions if there is anything you do not understand.

Dalhousie offers many ways to learn about academic writing and presentations so that all members of the University community may acknowledge the intellectual property of others. Knowing how to find, evaluate, select, synthesize and cite information for use in assignments is called being “information literate.” Information literacy is taught by Dalhousie University Librarians in classes and through Dalhousie Libraries’ online Citing & Writing tutorials.

Do not plagiarize any materials for this course. For further guidance on what constitutes plagiarism, how to avoid it, and proper methods for attributing sources, please consult the University Secretariat’s Academic Integrity page.

Please note that Dalhousie subscribes to plagiarism detection software that checks for originality in submitted papers. Any paper submitted by a student at Dalhousie University may be checked for originality to confirm that the student has not plagiarized from other sources. Plagiarism is considered a very serious academic offence that may lead to loss of credit, suspension or expulsion from the University, or even the revocation of a degree. It is essential that there be correct attribution of authorities from which facts and opinions have been derived. At Dalhousie, there are University Regulations which deal with plagiarism and, prior to submitting any paper in a course; students should read the Policy on Intellectual Honesty contained in the Calendar.

Furthermore, the University’s Senate has affirmed the right of any instructor to require that student assignments be submitted in both written and computer readable format, e.g.: a text file or as an email attachment, and to submit any paper to a check such as that performed by the plagiarism detection software. As a student in this class, you are to keep an electronic copy of any paper you submit, and the course instructor may require you to submit that electronic copy on demand. Use of third-party originality checking software does not preclude instructor use of alternate means to identify lapses in originality and attribution. The result of such assessment may be used as evidence in any disciplinary action taken by the Senate.

Finally:

If you suspect cheating by colleagues or lapses in standards by a professor, you may use the confidential email: ManagementIntegrity@dal.ca which is read only by the Assistant Academic Integrity Officer.
Faculty of Management clarification on plagiarism versus collaboration:

There are many forms of plagiarism, for instance, copying on exams and assignments. There is a clear line between group work on assignments when explicitly authorised by the professor and copying solutions from others. It is permissible to work on assignments with your friends but only when the professor gives you permission in the specific context of the assignment. University rules clearly stipulate that all assignments should be undertaken individually unless specifically authorised.

Specific examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to, the following:
- Copying a computer file from another student, and using it as a template for your own solution
- Copying text written by another student
- Submitting the work of someone else, including that of a tutor as your own

An example of acceptable collaboration includes the following:
- When authorised by the professor, discussing the issues and underlying factors of a case with fellow students, and then each of the students writing up their submissions individually, from start to finish.

UNIVERSITY STATEMENTS

ACCESSIBILITY

The Advising and Access Centre serves as Dalhousie’s Centre for expertise on student accessibility and accommodation. Our work is governed by Dalhousie’s Student Accommodation Policy, to best support the needs of Dalhousie students. Our teams work with students who request accommodation as a result of disability, religious obligation, an experienced barrier related to any other characteristic protected under Canadian Human Rights legislation.

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

Everyone at Dalhousie is expected to treat others with dignity and respect. The Code of Student Conduct allows Dalhousie to take disciplinary action if students don’t follow this community expectation. When appropriate, violations of the code can be resolved in a reasonable and informal manner—perhaps through a restorative justice process. If an informal resolution can’t be reached, or would be inappropriate, procedures exist for formal dispute resolution.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Every person at Dalhousie has a right to be respected and safe. We believe inclusiveness is fundamental to education. We stand for equality.

Dalhousie is strengthened in our diversity. We are a respectful and inclusive community. We are committed to being a place where everyone feels welcome and supported, which is why our Strategic Direction prioritizes fostering a culture of diversity and inclusiveness (Strategic Priority 5.2).

RECOGNITION OF MI'KMAQ TERRITORY

Dalhousie University would like to acknowledge that the University is on Traditional Mi'kmaq Territory.
The Elders in Residence program provides students with access to First Nations elders for guidance, counsel and support. Visit the office in the McCain Building (room 3037) or contact the programs at elders@dal.ca or 902-494-6803 (leave a message).
