GUIDELINES
Faculty of Science Undergraduate Research Prize

The Faculty of Science offers an Undergraduate Research Prize to students who have made a substantial commitment and contribution to research during their undergraduate programs. The prize is a non-monetary recognition of learning and contribution through participation in research outside of the classroom. The prize is awarded annually upon graduation to eligible students and is not based on GPA. The Undergraduate Research Prize will be noted on the student’s academic transcript.

Eligibility criteria:
- 32 weeks of full time (or equivalent) research experience while registered in a BSc 20 credit major, double major or BSc Honours Faculty of Science program at Dalhousie University
- Paid positions (grant paid), volunteer or summer award (eg. USRA) are eligible
- Research conducted as part of a course (e.g., special topics, co-op, experiential learning courses) or as part of an honours project is not eligible

How to apply:
- Submit a completed Application form (student) to your departmental contact (see list below)
- Ask each of the faculty members who supervised your research to provide a Faculty support letter. Ensure that the letter reaches your departmental contact. You may collect the letters, or Faculty member may send the letters directly to the contact.
- Deadline to submit to departments: April 8th

Departmental deadline: The application forms and letters of support should be forwarded to the Dean’s Office (attention Undergraduate Research Committee) by April 12.
