

Human Gene Editing

At the Cutting Edge

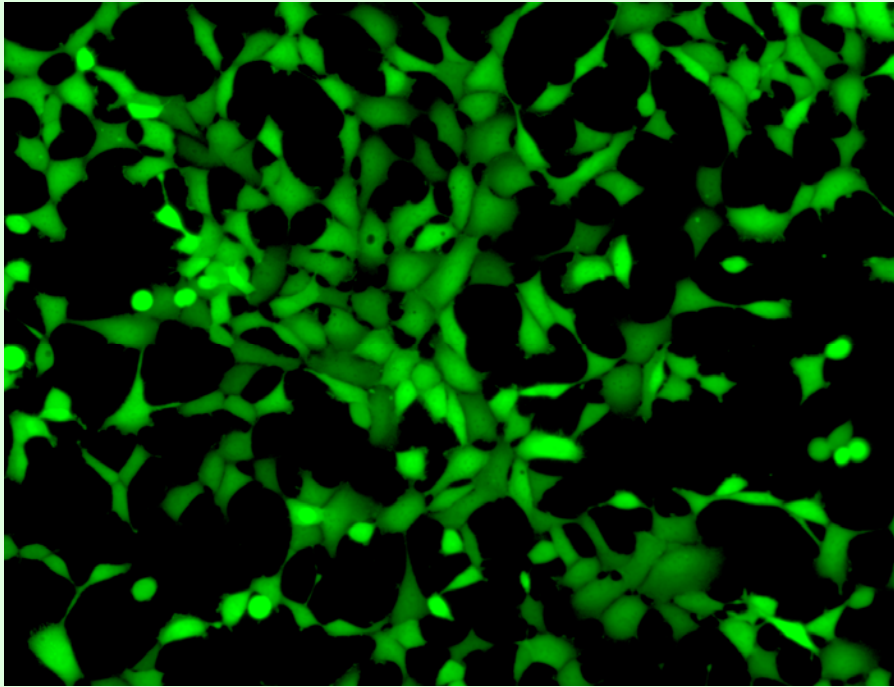

Image courtesy of the Paola Marignani Lab

Open to the Public

A symposium on the science of gene editing and its social, cultural, economic, and ethical implications

Presenters

Françoise Baylis (PhD), Novel Tech Ethics, Faculty of Medicine, Dalhousie U

Imogen Coe (PhD), Dean of the Faculty of Science, Ryerson U

Teresa Heffernan (PhD), Department of English, Faculty of Arts and Social Science, St. Mary's U

Paola Marcato (PhD), Department of Pathology, Faculty of Medicine, Dalhousie U

Paola Marignani (PhD), Department of Biochemistry & Molecular Biology, Faculty of Medicine, Dalhousie U

Andrea McCormick (MSc), Life & Health Sciences, Industry Liaison and Innovation, Research Services, Dalhousie U

Mon. 28 Nov. 2016 (9:00AM-1:30PM)

Theatre D, Sir Charles Tupper Building, Dalhousie University,
5850 College St., Halifax NS