

Single Mothers of Color, Bureaucratic Torture, and the Divinity of the Nation-State

Award winning anthropologist Smadar Lavie will discuss her new book, Wrapped in the Flag of Israel: Mizrahi Single Mothers and Bureaucratic Torture 2nd edition (July 2018).

Dr. Smadar Lavie holds the Simon and Riva Spatz Visiting Chair in Jewish Studies for this academic year, and is housed in the Department of Sociology and Social Anthropology at Dalhousie University.

Public lecture by

Dr. Smadar Lavie

2018–19 Spatz Chair in Jewish Studies

Tuesday, October 30, 2018 | 7:00–8:30 PM

Room 1016, Kenneth C. Rowe Management Building
6100 University Avenue, Dalhousie University, Halifax

This event is free and open to the public.

dal.ca/faculty/arts/news-events.html

Presented by:

The Simon and Riva Spatz Visiting Chair in Jewish Studies is intended to bring distinguished scholars from around the globe to share their expertise and perspectives with students and faculty at Dalhousie University and members of the broader Halifax community. The Chair maintains a focus on contemporary topics, but is otherwise broadly inclusive of scholars from a wide variety of arts, humanities, and social science backgrounds.